Why choose Newmedica?

Better clinical outcomes

Surgical complication rates are significantly below the norm, with posterior capsular rupture (PCR) at 0.31% compared to the national benchmark of 1.1%, so you can rest assured your patients will receive the best care.

Higher quality intraocular lenses

We are one of the only providers using the highest-quality monofocal intraocular lenses for NHS patients, with the lowest posterior capsule opacification (PCO) rate on the market. That means less YAG laser capsulotomy, fewer patients going through the worry of avoidable treatment, and savings for the NHS.

Short waiting times

Our short waiting times mean your patients will have their first appointment within a couple of weeks.

Broader ophthalmology services to meet more of your patients' needs

Our consultant ophthalmologists specialise in treating a wide range of eye conditions for the NHS and privately, including glaucoma, YAG and VR. That means the same familiar faces for you and your patients, and it often means more complex patients can also benefit from our services.

Continuity of care delivering 99% satisfaction

Our consultant ophthalmologists and their experienced teams are a consistent presence in our surgical centres so you, and your patients, get to know the team they can trust.
